

1. A circular disc for retrieval by a dog when thrown, the disc comprising said disc having a convex contour when seen from the side, a circular knob integrally connected to a top of said disc, a circular and slanting neck below said circular knob connects said knob to said disc, an outer and circular margin of said disc is rounded downwardly to complete the convexity of said disc.

2. The circular disc of claim 1, wherein said disc has a flat area on a top surface.

3. The circular disc of claim 1, wherein said knob is integrally molded with said disc.